

NWP College-Ready Writers Program

Student Work Analysis

Use this form to synthesize what you noticed as you read through your students' writing. Use the first column to list what students are able to do or where they are struggling for each category (claims, evidence, reasoning, sources). Note if you see similarities or differences across high, medium, and low samples. Then consider what is needed to help all students succeed.

Element of Argument Writing	Description: What the student work tells us about where students in CRWP currently are in their understanding and application of these moves.	Next Steps: How we can support students to further deepen their capacity to engage in source-based argument writing.
formulating a claim logical reasoning that supports the claim using evidence that is connected to the claim through logical reasoning using sources
