

Video games Are good

2-10-15

A teens favorit thing to do when they get home is play video games, because video games help releve stress communitation make new friends. Attention parents you shuld let your children play video games for these reasons and more.

One reason why you shuld let your children play video games. When they play video games at one point your children will get so good they will develope hand eye coordanation reflexes. thats one of the three reasons.

Another reason why you shuld let your children play videogames your children will learn to use team work on multi player games. If you havent read enough to per-swade you? well keep on reading.

A third reason why you shoud let your children play video games. If your child gets stressed or angry about 25% of boys use video games for stress relief.

Last but not Least reason why you should let your children play video games. Some video games will exercise your children such as; wii fit, sports champions, just dance. and some other video games will ed ucate your children such as; mine craft.