All schools Sould be able to wear what they Want to wear. First, They look nerdy and make pepleo very angry. So pepleo can't show their personalitty. Next, pepleo Would look cute if they can pick their own cloths. So for school picters will look cute. The most part about it is when you look bake at it and thinck it's perfect. Lasty, in Summer you are hot. But if you have a chocie. You are Just fine. So it is inportint to pick your own cloths.

Schools should not have dress codes, Scools should let students wear what they want to wear when ever they want to wear it. They don't let students show there personalidey. Scool uinforms are bad because strangers could lern the students names. They would make you realy het in the summer. Kids would be realy uncumferbull dear in the day. Scool uniforms are realy nerdy and silly.

Mrs. Obama has made a new law about what students get to eat at school. Some people like the law but some people do not. My opionion is the government should not be able to tell students what they can and cannot eat.

One reason I think the government should not regulate what we eat is because kids do not like the food. Kids do not like the food because they took away the salt and that's what gives the food the taste. In one district student refused to eat lunch for three weeks because they didn't like the food. Students are posting their anger over the program using Twitter.

Another reason I think the government should not reegualate what we eat is is kids throw away too much food. Kids are throwing away twice as much food as last year. A school found 46 unopened pears.

Another reason I think the goverenment should not regulate what we eat is schools cannot afford the high cost of the food. Schools were scared about the cost of wasted food. The rules make lunch cheap for students, but they cost schools money. Some schools are even taking money away from the teacher pay to cover extra cost.

Recently people have been talking about thier opinon about how the goverment and Mrs. obama have been telling us (students) what to eat in school lunchs. Well, now I'm going to tell you what I think.

I dont think mrs. obama should tell us what to eat. I think this because they took away our taste even though their trying to make our lunch healthy it is just grass and taste less. I believe we ain't geting enough food and energy. I was so exited about lunch a long time ago but now I would rather stay in class. I want and think we should get our old lunch back, I'm sure every one else does too. I believe it all need to come back I expreshly want the salt and taste back and if we get that back there will be less throwing our food away and more energy and eating.

I hope the government stops regulating our lands so it will be good again.

Today the govern ment has been changing school lunch I think OBAMA should be changing our school lunch because people are getting overweight and thats why I want to change school lunch.

My first reason I want to change school lunch because people are eating Junk food and are getting unhealthy. Some parents do not teach their kids to not eat Junk food at all so they can stay healthy.

My second reason is the new update Ms. Obama came up with was Hungry Healthy Kid Free act. The Junksellers are trying to push leaders in congress.

My third reason is kids get diabedees by not being healthy. Kids should have more fruit, whole grain, veggies.
